A MESSAGE FROM TONY

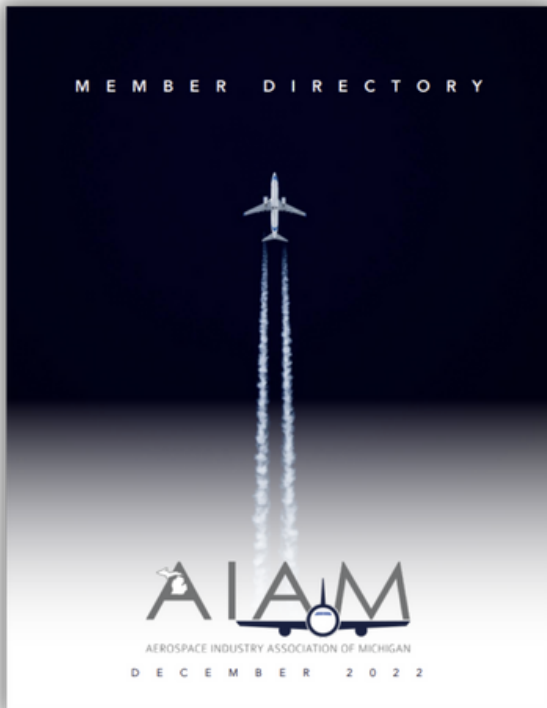

SEASON'S GREETINGS TO OUR AIAM BUSINESS COMMUNITY!

As another exciting year winds down, we are reflecting on the various accomplishments over the past 12-months. We have welcomed nearly 40 new members to our network of companies in 2022! This has been our second-best year in terms of number of new members. AIAM's continued growth right through the pandemic is extremely humbling but also a validation that businesses continue to see value in our work and collectively we are making an impact on the aerospace industry in Michigan.

Women of AEROSPACE INDUSTRY ASSOCIATION OF MICHIGAN

The Women of Aerospace Industry Association of Michigan (WAIAM) actively works to create advocacy, education, and visibility for women and girls in aerospace across Michigan. WAIAM strives to support all platforms and promote advancement for women within the industry through outreach, mentorship and representation.

WAIAM'S MOST RECENT INTERNAL LUNCHEON WAS A SUCCESS!

Several ladies from AIAM got together in Petoskey, MI for lunch, an afternoon of networking, and discussions on the future of WAIAM.

INTERESTED IN GETTING INVOLVED WITH WAIAM?

WAIAM is developing a host of other platforms in addition to its outreach efforts, including mentorship groups and networking events to connect and support women across Michigan in the aerospace industry.

OUTREACH

Building networks and relationships with other affinity groups in the aerospace industry in Michigan to promote women in the talent pipeline, from K-12 and beyond.

MENTORSHIP

Providing access, resources and a support network for both girls interested in aerospace and women already working in the industry.

REPRESENTATION

Recognizing the role that women already play in aerospace and provide visibility of those roles and pathways for future generations.

Special Announcement: AIAM Foundation

The Aerospace Industry Association of Michigan (AIAM) was established as a response to the increasing need to connect, engage, and advocate for the aerospace industry in Michigan.

The industry continues to have significant potential for growth, which could be hugely impactful for Michigan's economy and a diversification strategy for companies in the state. That is why earlier this year the AIAM board of directors authorized the establishment of a nonprofit charitable foundation to raise funding to support expanded programming.
